CITY MANAGER'S REPORT

Hillsboro's Food Entrepreneurs Are Cooking

City Manager Michael Brown

The next time you feel hungry, why not step out of your comfort zone and try something new? Hillsboro's unique mix of restaurants and food trucks reflects our City's cultural richness, and makes it easy to discover dishes from around the world.

Hillsboro is home to a diversity of flavors. You may already know about our outstanding Indian restaurants or the wide variety of excellent Asian cuisine, but there are many other Hillsboro chefs sharing their passion for food each day.

The City of Hillsboro is helping community members to pursue their dreams. This spring, the City launched "Cocinemos", which translates to "cooking together" or "let's cook".

Cocinemos is a food entrepreneurship program that helps local Latino entrepreneurs overcome linguistic, financial, and cultural barriers to successfully start and grow food-based businesses in Hillsboro.

The City is partnering with local nonprofit Adelante Mujeres to provide business coaching, training, asset building, and other technical assistance to several local entrepreneurs:

- Lucia Silva of La Mixteca Oaxaca is opening a Mexican restaurant this summer inside Su Casa Imports in Hillsboro.
- Reyna Rojas of Los Papalos will use the commercial kitchen for her Mexican food catering service, which uses local organic products.
- Eugenio Flores of Paeteria Flores is selling his frituras (chips) in 4 local stores, including Yesenia Bakery in Hillsboro.
- Rosalva Martinez sells her artisanal Rainbow Ice Cream at M&M Market, as well as at the Tuesday Night Market.
- Cristian Barajas of Sweet Teriyaki makes and sells teriyaki chicken, shrimp, and beef, as well as noodles and rice, at M&M Market. Cristian is exploring ways to sell his homemade teriyaki sauce.

One of the biggest challenges to starting and growing a food-based business is gaining access to a commercial or commissary kitchen. Starting this summer, this group will have access to the newly renovated Hillsboro Community Senior Center kitchen to develop their recipes and prepare foods for sale.

We hope you will join us in supporting these home-grown local entrepreneurs, and in supporting our established restaurants and food-based businesses.

Q & A: What is the Library on the Loose?

The Library on the Loose van brings the library experience to you at schools, City facilities, parks, and local organizations. Sign up for a library card, return a book, play with STEM toys, and take part in a program – right in your neighborhood.

Why did the Hillsboro Public Library create the Library on the Loose?

Library staff believe there should be no barriers to accessing library services and programs. The Library on the Loose van further connects residents to their library by increasing access to materials and supporting lifelong learning.

What kind of books and items can be found in the van?

The van has books for all ages, STEM activities that will inspire and engage, and other materials that will allow for a pop-up program anywhere there's an audience. If the Library on the Loose van does not have your favorite author, no problem. Library staff will help show you how to reserve an item using the van's mobile WiFi.

Where will residents see the Library on the Loose van?

The van will visit local parks, migrant camps in Hillsboro, City-sponsored events, and some Hillsboro School District summer lunch sites. Look for it on the road, or connect with the Hillsboro Public Library on Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram to see if the mobile library is coming to a neighborhood near you.

Hillsboro 101: Our Council-Manager Form of Government

For more than 90 years, the City of Hillsboro has utilized the Council-Manager form of government that voters approved through the City of Hillsboro Charter: Hillsboro’s constitution. Why is that? Let’s find out.

What is the Council-Manager form of government?

Hillsboro’s Council-Manager structure is a representative system that places political leadership in the hands of elected City Councilors. The structure also enlists the expertise and professional experience of an appointed City Manager to effectively deliver the services that the Council prioritizes for the City.

What are the advantages of the Council-Manager form?

Beyond professional expertise, the Council-Manager system brings accountability. The City Manager serves at the pleasure of the City Council, the elected representatives of the people.

The Council-Manager system often leads to lower costs through improved productivity and service delivery, and the effective use of technology. The local economy benefits from improved business development and retention strategies.

Learn more about Hillsboro’s Council-Manager form of government and the City Charter at Hillsboro-Oregon.gov/Council.

What role does the Council play?

The City Manager makes policy recommendations to the City Council, who decide whether to move forward on those recommendations. The Council also approves the budget, sets goals for the community, and evaluates the City Manager.

Because political power is concentrated in the entire Council rather than one elected official, residents have more opportunities to serve the community in elected leadership.

What role does the Mayor play?

As a member of the City Council, the Mayor is a key political leader and policy developer, leading meetings and speaking on behalf of the community. The Mayor also facilitates communications between elected leaders and represents the City in discussions with other cities and governments.

5 Reasons We’re Proud to Support HSD Students and Educators

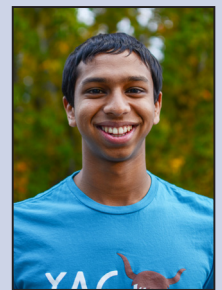

Supporting and showing pride for Hillsboro’s high-quality education system is a guiding principle of the Hillsboro City Council. Here are five reasons why the City of Hillsboro is proud to support the Hillsboro School District (HSD):

1. On-time graduation rates rose in 2016 to 81.68 percent, outpacing the state average by 6 percent.
2. Liberty High School senior Bonnie Romeo was selected to all three of the nation’s military academies and will be attending West Point in the fall.

3. More than 1,100 students earned dual credit (high school and college credit) in the 2015-16 school year, saving $767,977 in college expenses.
4. Glencoe senior Ashwin Datta won Best in Fair at Intel’s 2017 Beaverton-Hillsboro Science Expo for his invention of a mechanism for rotating microsatellites using angular momentum rather than propulsion systems. Ashwin worked on the project during his summer internship at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), where he will return this fall for his undergraduate studies. Ashwin also is a National Merit Scholar and a winner of the Hillsboro Chamber’s Distinguished Youth Award.

Bonnie Romeo

Ashwin Datta

5. The District celebrated 48 valedictorians and salutatorians from its four comprehensive high schools and Hillsboro Online Academy in 2017.

See other outstanding HSD achievements at www.hsd.k12.or.us and congratulations to the graduates of the Class of 2017!
